CHANGED TIMES

There is a season and a time
for all things bright and dark, light and happy, warm and cold:
a time for holding fast and letting go,
a time for gathering up and casting,
a time for bringing in and giving out,
a time for greetings and a time for partings.

Oh, let me be attune with seasons and with the changing time of things:
I want to hold you close when your time calls for that,
to see you from afar when solitude is what you need,
to comfort you in troubled moments,
to shield you from a cloud of storm and shelter you when the earth trembles and see you safely home through lonely water.

There is a season and a time
for lovers like ourselves, as days of gentle summer rain must follow warmth and sunshine, as autumn leaves must fall as well,
our meeting and our parting must have its time and season.

— Walter Henry Nelson

Dedication

Some men spend a lifetime searching for their destinies but you have achieved all that a person could dream possible.

We admire you, a man with love in your heart and dedication in your soul. You are a person of conviction and honesty, and you are a man who has accepted a challenge which few men can meet and conquer!

To you, Bishop Ottenweller, we wish to dedicate the 1974 CREST as a token of our admiration and as a small thank you for all you've done for us and for our community.

Today's Leaders Influence

The school board of St. John School is confronted every day with the many problems that arise when it comes to keeping a school in commission. These people put in many long, hard hours of work, hours that are appreciated by the people of our parish. The students of St. John's would like to thank these people for their dedication.

Tomorrow's Achievers

Being the principal of a school is a difficult job for any man, but Mr. Adams seems to enjoy being the leader of St. John's High School. But there are many aspects of Mr. Adams' job we don't realize: the responsibilities, the pressures, the sorrows, the disappointments. His job is so complex that Mr. Adams is sometimes a bit mysterious — doing things, acting in certain ways, and changing in mood for reasons which aren't apparent to us.

STUDENT LIFE

Going. Going. Gone . . .

The pictures below illustrate one of the tricks played on the students by the football cheerleaders during a pep assembly. Many other such activities were often found in the classrooms and halls, and were sometimes forgotten.

Before we know it, the school year has ended and become part of the past. All we have left are the memories. Pranks like the one shown along with others all make up our school years at St. John's.

What do you remember from a school year?

Wake up, Mike Benson!

Childhood playmates always seem to be able to find each other in a crowd.

Football players and the student body participate in the annual bonfire.

Not even Rick Reindel can run away from our Crest photographer.

An unidentified entertainer adds a little excitement to the study hall.

School Daze

A shot from the All-Star game catches Mike Shumaker in a state of shock.

Sue Miller helps herself to some goodies.

It is hard for some students to give up their favorite childhood fantasies.

The spirit of a Raggedy Ann doll symbolizes just how loveable St. John's really is.

'Teen Angel' Is Here To Stay

LEFT: As you can see many of the students were not easily identified. Is that you Mike (Bernie) Benson?!

MIDDLE: As shown here the cheerleaders supported the fifties spirit of the day.

RIGHT: Tina Brandehoff and Margaret Fisher — two fifties teenyboppers swinging down the hall.

BOTTOM: This high school crowd hashes over the latest gossip.

Old doesn't necessarily mean out of style according to St. John's students as many of them participated in the Fifties Day. This project sponsored by the Student Council was designed to promote school spirit and general all around fun. Enthusiastic students sported pony tails, long skirts, leather jackets, and slicked-down hair.

Superstars vs. Faculty

Family rivalries come into focus as the Alt brothers battle for the ball.

Mike Shumaker commands attention with his high jumping ability.

Mr. Funk displays the kind of action and skill that captured a faculty victory over the All-Stars, 72-69.

Let us not quarrel over a basketball!

Citizens Involved in Civic Work

Shown after donating a flag to the Annex are VFW members: Don Walters, Frank Monday, and Mel Boberg.

Last fall, the Veterans of Foreign Wars presented St. John's Annex with an American flag that had flown over the Capitol building.

Each year students from the Junior class are chosen to attend Girls' State and Boys' State. While there, the students conduct a government of their own. Each student is elected to a position and attends to their respective duties.

Alternates Amy Hemker and Julie Krendl were chosen with Aimee Hedrick and Mary Clark who represented St. John's as delegates to Girls' State.

Bill Scherger (right) attended Boys' State this summer with Joe Heitz serving as alternate.

Homecoming 1973

October 12-13

Stairway to Heaven

The girls in their corvetts assemble for the parade through town.

Last chance for practice before the evening's ceremonies.

The Homecoming court dances to "Precious and Few."

A group of Seniors enjoy their last St. John's Homecoming.

For many the Homecoming Dance was a great success. It concluded a long-awaited weekend. 1973 Homecoming — an event that will linger in the minds of all who attended.

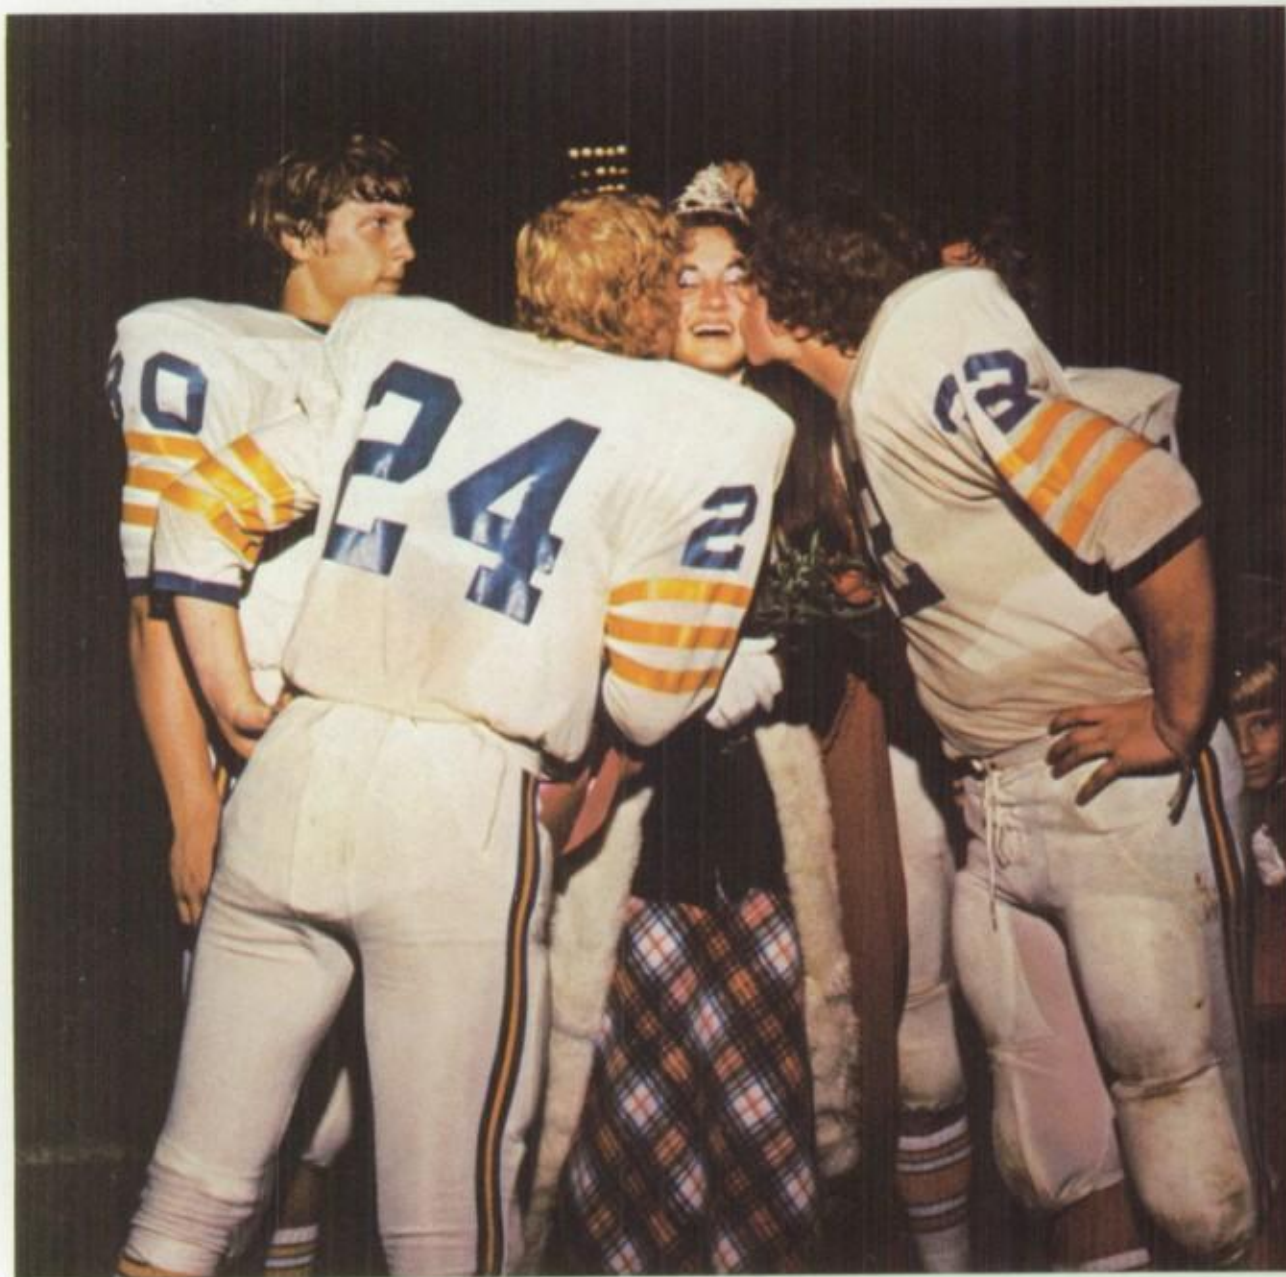

Queen Robbin and her escort Don Alt, lead the way.

Smiles

It's all part of Homecoming. The excitement, nervousness, and surprise fill the air. Although it may seem the same each year to the spectators, Homecoming is a unique experience for each member of the court. Even though the Blue Jays dropped the game to a tough Celina team, spirits made a rebound at the ceremonies and dance the following evening.

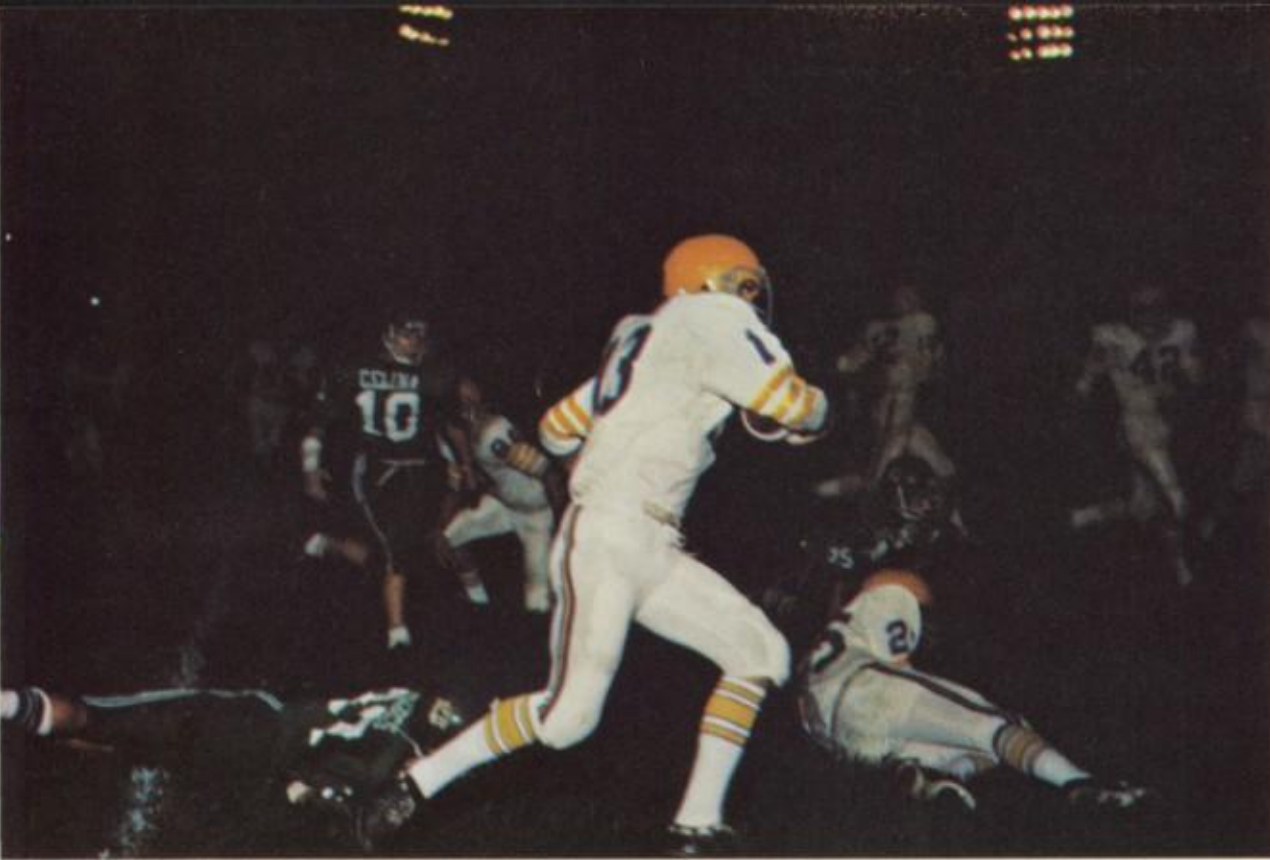

An expressive smile radiates from Robbin as she is crowned by the team captains.

The band assumes a familiar formation.

Memories of a Homecoming Past

*Memories:
It comes and it goes.
Forgotten by some.
and remembered by most.
The realization that it's time,
and the fear that it's almost over.
Tears and smiles and hugs
from the people who care.
The shaky knees and stomach,
and the last walk as queen.*

*Memories:
They come but never go.
These are the memories I'll always keep of Homecoming 1974.*

Everyone Doing

In the days before the festival the school operated in a state of turmoil, but none seemed to mind. Everyone was swept up in the excitement of preparation. The air of friendly cooperation among the workers helped tremendously toward the success of the festival. Young and old alike worked hard for a common goal, thereby erasing any generation gap that may have been present.

Muscle power can come in handy at times.

Next victim, please!!!

Tom Grothouse and Joe Menke appear to take delight in their work.

Watch it guys, it's a long way down.

Their Share

Volunteering as kitchen help, excused some girls from class, to help make preparations.

Dan Duncan, Fran Voll and Bud Honigford discuss some technical aspects of the festival.

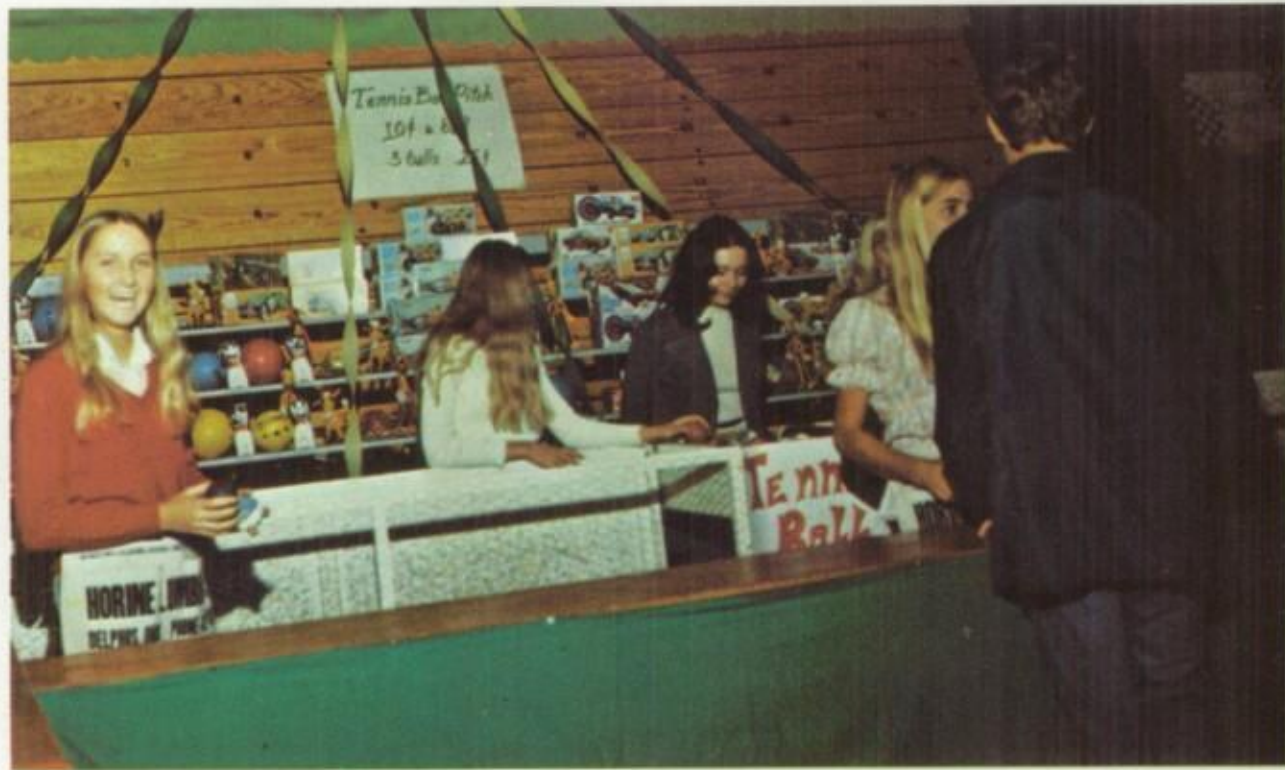

These girls discovered that cooking for the festival isn't as easy as it seems.

1973 Fall Festival

What a great year for the St. John Festival! It was terrific success! Everyone there seemed to enjoy themselves during the two day event and in the process $68,000 was accumulated. This money is used toward the financing of the grade and high schools. Without the wonderful support illustrated by our parishoners, the schools would not be able to function.

Working can be a pleasure at the St. John's School Festival.

The faculty does their share of the work too.

Mr. Adams and Mr. Duncan are shown influencing two young ladies in their choice of prizes.

Future

In October, several bus-loads of students from St. John's journeyed to OSU-Lima campus. There they attended lectures given by professors and students on many career possibilities.

Christmas:

Packing away the toys are Jayne Miller and Tom Grothouse.

Margaret Fisher is shown doing her part for the Christmas Assembly.

Even though it was postponed by snow, this year's Christmas Assembly proved to be quite entertaining. It revolved around the game show "To Tell The Truth" featuring Johnny Christmas (portrayed by Pat Wagner). After the skit, the faculty received their delayed Christmas gifts.

Barb Fortener seems to have found a little friend on the Toys for Tots Day.

"Everyone loves a Christmas Tree" so say Pat Murray and Lenny Klaus.

Tina Brandehoff, Mark Goedde, Tom Jettinghoff and Joyce Geddings make up the panel of experts for "To Tell The Truth."

Joys and Toys

Members of Student Council are shown organizing the toys received from the students.

Another project of the Student Council was Toys for Tots Day. Each student was permitted to wear jeans if he donated a new or good used toy to the society. This project was a big success. Not only were those who donated happy, but many under privileged children of this area received something from Santa Claus.

Starting off the Christmas assembly is Polly Weber, President of Student Council.

Dale Carder appears to be having trouble adjusting to being an angel.

Ferry Johns interrupts the program with a commercial for "Cocoa Grappies."

Shown is Dodie Dukes assembling this angel's wings.

West Side Story

Bob Hammons and Diana Imber rehearse a scene in the Bridal Shop.

The people involved in the play this year took on a great challenge by performing "West Side Story." After the decision was made on the play, the pit band began practicing almost immediately. Dancing steps had to be mastered, for they played an important part in the play. There were other changes from tradition also as the play was enacted without a formal stage. As a result, our technicians had to experiment with the lighting and sound systems.

Rehearsing the play was sometimes very difficult because acting, singing, and dancing had to be coordinated together to bring out the special meaning of the play. All the emotions were encountered in performing "West Side Story" as the actors portrayed their characters through the action of the story. The entire experience was valuable to the Seniors for introducing them to the art of theater.

The Jets "do their thing" at the dance in the gym.

Bernardo's and Riff's participation in the rumble entail their deaths.

The "Jets" declare revenge against the "Sharks."

The Sharks are determined not to let the Jets intimidate them.

Anita and Maria discuss the approaching dance which will be Maria's first dance in America.

Gladhand encourages mixed dancing with the enthusiastic (?) teenagers.

The Shark girls sing "I like to be in America."

Maria and Anita are both anxious to see their boyfriends as they close up the Bridal Shop.

Seniors Find Hard Work Pays Off in

The Sharks and their girls were: (row 1) Bob Vondran, Denny Grone, Terry Johns, Tom Rekart, Karen Jettinghoff, Alice Bellman, Diana Imber, Judy Ricker, Dianne Mesker. (row 2) Pam Schwieterman, Rick Reindel, Becky Huysman, Steph Kaskel, Kenny Honigford, Tina Brandehoff, Marv Steyer, Dodie Dukes, Peggy Fought, Marilyn Burgei.

Production of Class Play

These people contributed much to the success of the class play: Cindy Brandehoff, Choreographer; Mike Benson as Doc; Jeff Kimet as Shrank; Mike Grubenhoff as Officer Krupke; Jo Ann German as Gladhand; Tina Brandehoff as Anita; Marv Steyer as Bernardo; Bob Hammons as Tony; Mr. John Gunder, director; Diana Imber as Maria; Dan Pothast as Riff; and Craig McRedmond, assistant director.

Atmosphere of Theater

The people you see on this page were involved in many different aspects of the play. They are the ones responsible for helping to build the sets, make up, lights, promotion, taking the sets on and off the stage, and countless other duties.

Experienced by Seniors

There was a great deal of pride and satisfaction in the Senior class production of "West Side Story." Everyone involved contributed something to the benefit of the play. The Seniors grew closer together as a whole after sharing all the experiences that went into the making of several great performances.

Tina Brandehoff and Marv Steyer just can't seem to get the class play out of their systems.

Some of the Shark girls are shown putting in a little extra practice.

Bob Hammons and Diana Imber take a pose from the Balcony scene.

Upperclassmen Add Another Memory to

Ray Coleson and his orchestra are shown performing for the evening.

Enjoying the dancing are Deb Reindel and Lenny Klaus.

Kathy Hoffman, Tim Clark, Bob Ulm, and Mary Hesseling sit out one of the many dances.

Their Years at St. John's

There is fun at the prom for the teachers too!

Important discussions took place at the prom.

These people relax and enjoy the atmosphere of the prom.

Many people attended this year's prom, making it a very successful event. Along with this, the Junior class worked hard and long on all the necessary preparations. This yearly dance brings the Juniors together as they plan their work several weeks in advance. Making decorations, preparing food, and setting up lights, take a great deal of cooperation from everyone.

Marilyn Burgei and her date look guilty for getting their picture taken.

*Moonlit
Memories
Junior-Senior
Prom
May 11, 1974*

The gazebo was one of the main attractions of this year's prom. Many hours of work went into its making.

Here are students standing in line at the smorgasbord. Food looks good, doesn't it gang?

Dancing to the contemporary music are Jerry Neumeier and his date.

May 11, 1974, the evening of "Moonlit Memories," the theme of the Junior-Senior Prom, now reigns in the memories of all those who attended. Music was provided by the Ray Coleson Orchestra. Their arrangements included everything from contemporary to polka to rock.

Midway through the dancing, for the second year in a row, a smorgasbord luncheon was served. Sophomores acted as servers for this event.

Seniors, rock on!

Mr. Rupert, Mr. Gunder, and Mr. Bohnlein also helped chaperone the food.

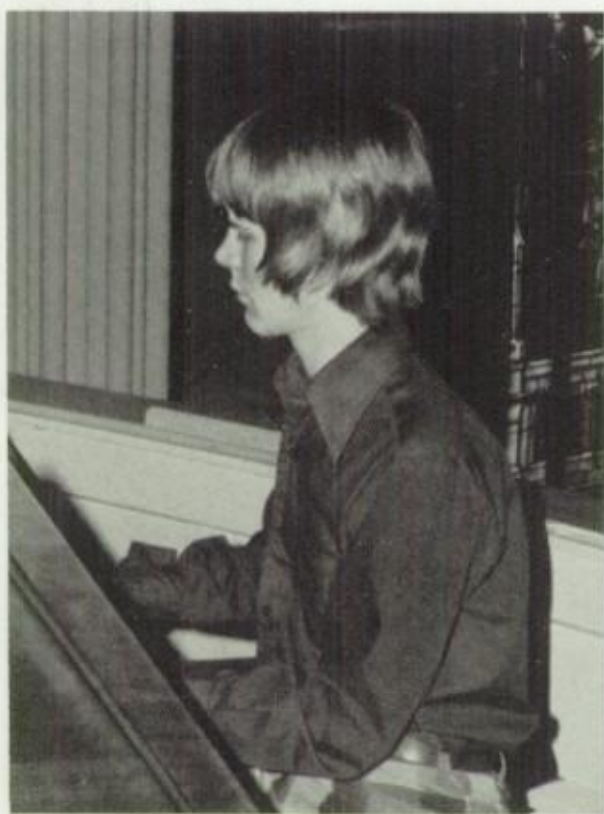

Jeff Kimmet and Becky Huysman keep in time to the music.

Study Days Promote Religious Education

Masses, speakers, entertainment, and many other activities play important parts in the Study Days that are planned by Father Blaser. This year the Mission Society conducted a Service Day in which the entire student body became involved in performing diverse services for the community and surrounding areas.

Bob Ulm takes part in the St. John's Study Day by using his musical ability.

Mass is a part of each Study Day whether it takes place in the gym or in the church.

For some of the student body, the Mission Study Day was a challenge "physically."

Lisa Hanshumaker, Karen Jettinghoff, Chad Weber, and Glenn Bertling helped with the Red Cross Disaster Aid Kits which was another part of the Mission Study Day.

Seniors Visit Cedar Point and Ft. Loramie

Barb Bonifas smiles exuberantly. Having a good time?

Steve Lause, Bill Looser, and Jerry Neumeier take a break from all the activity at Cedar Point.

Cedar Point in Sandusky, Ohio and Ft. Loramie once again were the popular choices for the Senior class trip and picnic. Greyhound buses, chartered for the class trip, provided comfortable transportation to Cedar Point. Many Seniors attended the event and were rewarded with good weather and fun for the day. The prayers of many people were answered (Sr. Marciana?) when a beautiful day dawned for the Senior class picnic. As a result, many students went swimming and soaked up the sun on the beach with some people getting too much sun!

Many Seniors were glad to rest and recuperate on the buses home from Cedar Point.

"Pass the Alka-Seltzer please," groans Kim Buschor.

Deb Youngpeter and Deb Hoffman enjoyed a picnic lunch, complete with hot dogs!

No More Homework!

Carol Kündert and Peggy Klausing complete some last minute cleaning duties.

Greg Scherger had better be careful!

With the Seniors gone, the halls start to thin out.

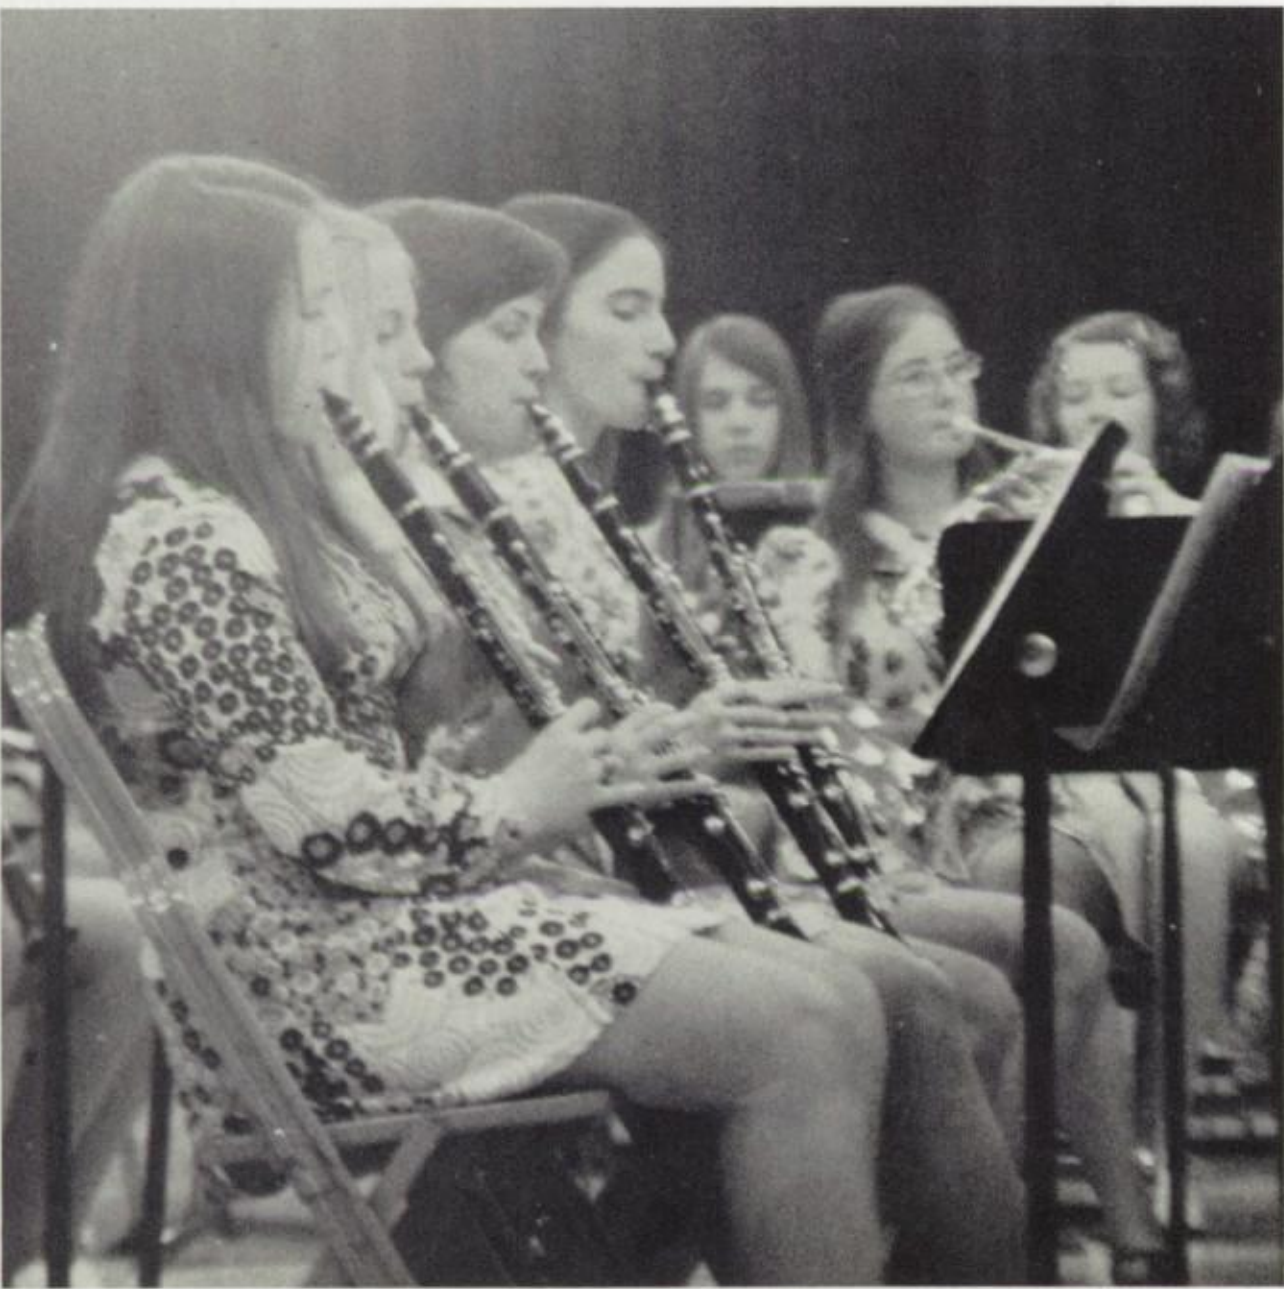

Empty halls — a sure sign that school is out.

School books are put away, so these Juniors pass time by playing cards.

Juniors are transformed into Seniors, Sophomores into Juniors, and Freshmen become Sophomores. It's the last day of school! Everything is put away and forgotten until the next year when it starts all over again. This page concludes the Student Life section. Hopefully in the future, these pages will remind you of special incidents and help you remember what was once life at St. John's during 1973-1974.

Graduation — Those Funny Looking Caps

Lisa Hanshumaker receives the Director's Award for her work in the class play.

Dodie Dukes happily receives one of the two Senior Art Awards from Mrs. Mary Minnig.

Polly Weber was the 1974 recipient of the Huffman Award.

Graduation day fills departing Seniors with mixed emotions.

and Gowns Are Finally Earned!

Alice Noonan was the top student in the class and one of the speakers at graduation.

Graduation is an important day in everyone's lives. Seniors begin to count the days until the final one way back in the middle of winter. "May 26" became a magical incantation, sometimes throwing a few excitable Seniors into fits of frenzy. Many people looked forward to that day, but there were a few feelings of sorrow also. St. John's became almost a second home to some Seniors. We would miss some of the crazy things that went on in those halls and classrooms. However, no one can remain a school age "teenybopper" forever and so graduation finally became a reality. In the meantime, we shared numerable experiences together such as the class play, Senior trip, and Senior outing. In the awards assembly, quite a few people received honors and scholarships, giving them recognition for their work at St. John's. As the day grew near, we also began to understand what previous Senior classes had experienced as graduation approached and a new life began.

The other commencement speakers were Steve Bergfeld

Tom Hoersten.

DO YOUR BEST

*Not all folks can be towering oaks —
Some make much better pines
While being just a little bush
Is where another shines
For success is never measured
By the height that you achieve
But rather by how you live up
To all that you believe
So know just where you're going
And what you are working for
Then do the very best you can —
No one could ask for more!*

— Amy Garrison Culver

Isn't anything local anymore?

Jet travel has put us within a few hours of any point on the globe, and television gives us an instantaneous look at what's happening anywhere.

With distances shrinking the way they are, it's easy to get the idea that our own local community isn't too important in the scheme of things . . . that everything that's happening is happening somewhere else.

Don't believe it. The jets and television sets were designed and built by people in towns just like ours. The newsmen, the pilots, the politicians and the passengers all have a hometown, too.

Central Soya is most happy to be a part of this community. We're proud of our people and the part we play in making our hometown a better place to live and work.

Isn't anything local anymore?

Sure! We are!

It's your future.

Congratulations from a Former Grad

To produce an outstanding yearbook, you need hard workers, a dedicated advisor, time and cooperation. Everyone connected with this production of the CREST combined these qualities which made the 1974 CREST a great success.

To Mr. Steve White, our Taylor representative, thank you for all the times you helped us with our book.

To the student photographers, Tim and Kim, Mr. Charles Nulty, and especially Mr. David Lundgren of Kaufman Studio, a big thank you for all the beautiful pictures that were taken and for all your hard work.

To Nancy and Jerry, taking care of the money is always a big responsibility. As this year's business managers, you really did an excellent job.

Thanks doesn't seem to be enough to the staff members for all the work they did to help produce this volume of the CREST. It was hard work right to the end, but it was fun.

The biggest thank you goes to our advisor, Mr. Randy Bohnlein. We'll never know how he puts up with it, but he never gives up. He was always there to give us a hand whenever we needed it. It was a lot of fun and we'll never forget all the good times that we had.

As we look back on this year, we'll see that it is "A Time to Remember What Once Was Ours."
